Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to pay more than $1000 a month for any more than a merchant can afford to pay for his goods or services. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its column space is a valuable asset and advertisements should be paid for, no matter what part of the paper they appear.

KICKERS' CORNER

If any one at any time for any reason has any cause to "kick" in any way at anything of any kind, here's the place to say his say. The door is open wide, right in help him to get out of any difficulty he may be in, and don't make your "kick" too long—it's the short, quick fellow that counts—and cut.

BEST—The name of the stick must accommodate the kick, etc., etc., it'll be kicked into the waste-basket.

"Let those dollar excursions to Cincinnati continue," says the Cincinnati Post. That's all good enough for Cincinnati, but how about the many dollars these excursions take from their own towns to enrich the pockets of the Cincinnati merchants? It isn't the excursions that are so objectionable as it is the amount of money spent on them. The charts of cities like Paris, Carlisle, Cynthiana, Winchester, etc., where these merchants pay taxes, rent, etc., and reasonably expect the patronage of their home people—Paris, Kentucky.

Oh! That's all right!

If the local merchant is willing to sit down and sleep while the Cincinnati merchant is wide-awake and hustling, he has no kick coming.

Maysville has lost thousands and tens of thousands of dollars of her trade because surrounding cities availed themselves of their advantages, while Maysville, with equal advantages, refused to offer any inducements for people to come here.

The Lord has helped Maysville abundantly to everything save enterprise—"git up and git"—and she will not help herself just a little bit.

THE LEDGER intends nothing personal when it speaks of grocery keepers, &c., having charge of the city's internal improvements.

It's the rottenly wasteful system that it condemns.

You'd hardly go to a shoemaker to have him build you a bicycle, and yet you expect a storekeeper to do work that belongs to Civil Engineering.

There's no doubt in the world that the present Chairman of the Internal Improvement Committee sacrifices his personal interest in looking after the city's streets, that he does his duty as it's laid down for him, and that the work is done as well as he knows how—but what about the "know how?"

Building bridges, laying gutters and putting down streets is a business demanding skill acquired only by long experience, and it isn't reasonable to expect that a novice can do it—any more than some members of the City Council are fit to command the Salvation Army.

KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Adopted at Louisville, Aug. 10th, 1857.

Approved by the Republican party in Convention assembled.

First—That we reaffirm the principles of the Republican party as set forth in the platform adopted by it at St. Louis in 1856.

Second—That we, in the interest of the National and State and A national Government, and especially commend the action of our present state officials in their efforts to suppress mobocracy and to preserve the financial credit of the state.

Third—We commend the action of the representatives of the Republican party in the passage of a Tax on Riches which will render us able to support the Government, prevent the issue of interest-bearing bonds, protect American labor and maintain the National credit.

Fourth—We oppose to a system of Civil Service that builds up an official class with practically a life tenure in all central branches of the public service. We oppose to a Civil Service Law which would set aside the terms of service to four years, with the privilege of reappointment or promotion, subject to such restrictions as will secure competent officials and give the best service of the country in proportion of their property.

Fifth—We sympathize with the struggling people of Cuba in their efforts to secure their independence.

Sixth—That we recommend to the people the adoption of the Constitutional amendment submitted by the last Legislature, which will give the states the privilege of ratification under legislative supervision the method of levying the taxes they impose on themselves for city and town purposes.

Seventh—To favor the passage of a law that will protect the laborers of Kentucky from the competition of convict labor, and if necessary to accomplish said result, an amendment to the Constitution permitting such legislation.

"The best way to get rid of a bad law is to enforce it."—General Grant.

Therefore THE LEDGER favors the rigid enforcement of the Civil Service Law.

The Frankfort Capital seems to be having a whole lot of fun all by its lonely self.

The Frankfort Capital very pertinently and truly says the Revenue and Taxation chapters in the Constitution and Statutes were written by demagogues to catch the votes of Populists, Socialists and Anarchists, and the Statute violated the Constitution in its mad effort to put a penalty on successful industry and enterprise, and to brand every man with thrift enough to accumulate a competence as an enemy of the "poor man."

WASHINGTON SOCIAL CIRCLE.
Our little village is fast coming to the front as a social and literary center and of the numerous social functions of the season just past one of the most charming was a 1 o'clock dinner given by Miss Edna Hunter, the guest of honor having been Misses Hall and Harbo. Miss Hunter's versatility enables her to always preside with a grace which not only serves to charm, but to bring out all that is in her guests, who, upon this occasion, quickly catching up the infection, mingled their quotes of jokes, music and recitations, making the afternoon replete with pleasure. The guests were Miss Carrill of Covington, who spent last winter singing on a concert tour, Miss Anna Bell Harbo of Richmond, Miss Annie Page Goggin of Austin, Tex., Miss Willimene Holdreher of Muncie, Ind., Mrs. L. G. Malthy and Miss Lily Blanchard.

The home of Mrs. Dr. John P. Phister and daughter, Mrs. Basil Duke, on East Third street, is one of charm and true hospitality. Modernized and beautified, it is a home of comfort and enjoyment. But these belongings are not the environment amid which sits the Queen of Pleasure. Such are but the ways leading to the secret chamber—the hearts—which are full of inherent qualities, spoken always in acts of generosity, deeds of honest and anticipatory conduct which bring all life's pleasures to old and young.

The young buds of "our society" were beautifully entertained last night by Miss Margaret Duke Watson, the Pilster home being at her disposal. Dancing was the order of the evening, music being furnished by the Italian Orchestra, which is now an itinerant visitor gladdening the hearts of our people by the sweetest instruments blending—harp, violin and cello. All the "social lions" were out to honor the "doves," and arrayed in the white, filmy costumes of the beautiful girls it was an ever changing scene of life's gaiety gotten together to honor Miss Julia Taylor of Ironon, Miss Tate of Kansas City, Miss Powell of Cynthia, Miss Florence Ingles of Lexington, Miss Anna Coons Blaine of Avondale and Miss Carrie Long of Lewisburg. The pleasures were prolonged till the early dawn, and the young women then were ready to give up, for no one stands ready to renounce allegiance to such queens as these hostesses. Mrs. Milton C. Russell and Mrs. Duke Watson were two friends who dropped in to witness the dance. These ladies are stably in womanly dignity and stand always for the beautiful and charming.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT!

PROSPECTS THROUGHOUT THE STATE OF KENTUCKY.

GENERAL REVIEW.

Rain is needed everywhere. Only scattered showers, which, as a rule, were very light, occurred during the past seven days. As a result the reports from nine-tenths of our correspondents are discouraging in tone. Reference to the beneficial effects of the rains which fell the 23d is frequently found among this week's reports. It also develops that considerable damage to corn and tobacco, especially the latter, was done by hail which attended severe thunderstorms on this date in several localities. Light showers fell in a number of Northern and Central counties on the 23d and 29th, but over the greater portion of the state dry weather prevailed throughout the week. In the Western section drought is again as serious as it was prior to the showers on the 22d. Instead of being confined to the counties comprising the Green river basin, it has spread to such proportions that the entire Western section, which includes all the counties West of Hardin, Hart and Barren, is now seriously affected. Showers of a general character would do much good in the Central section, where some counties have been sighted for some time past in the local distribution of rainfall. As a rule crops are not suffering for want of water in the Eastern section, though showers might improve tobacco in some localities and late corn generally.

The temperature was slightly below normal during the first half of the week. The nights were especially cool. This delayed the ripening of corn and garden truck. During the latter part of the week the temperature rose rapidly, the average maximum for Sunday over the entire state being 96 degrees. It equaled or exceeded 100 degrees at a number of stations in the Western section but Saturday and Sunday. As the soil had long been dry this excessive heat baked it so hard that plowing for winter wheat had to be suspended wherever it had been commenced. But very little fallowing has been done, considering the advanced stage of the season. The tobacco prospect is very discouraging. A statistician enumerates "fifty-seven frost farms now in successful operation" in various parts of the country.

WESTERN SECTION.

Farmers in this section have about given up all hope of realizing profit on any of their products except wheat, which is as yet not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from care less local treatment of diseases.

CHIEF CAUSES.

Unhealing from underneath kidney disease is the chief cause of blader trouble. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctor too much is liable to weak disease or death. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Klimmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. If you need a medicine that does not admit that immediate rains are essential to the advancement of crops, in the district surrounding Ohio and Indiana, where drought has long been dry for three months, correspondents say tobacco is a complete failure. There will be no first-class tobacco, and what may be able to be saved, which will hardly exceed one-third the average crop, will be very inferior in quality. Correspondents seem to agree upon only half the usual yield of the dark tobacco. Most of it is drying badly, though cutting is in progress in some localities, yet much of the late planted is in danger of death by frost. All the tobacco in a certain tract one by eight miles square in Christian county was so badly damaged by hail on the 22d that some growers have plowed their fields. Corn is also in generally poor condition. It is burning rapidly, and in some places is ready for the knife. Rain cannot now improve it much. Half of a good year's crop is all that can be saved. The ground is baked so hard that no falling has been done. Apples are ripening prematurely and falling fast. Water is scarce so stock have to be driven some distance to creeks or rivers.

CENTRAL SECTION.

In this section there is less general complaint of dry weather. Yet the improvement in corn and tobacco is very slight. Large quantities of tobacco in Kenton, Campbell, Pendleton, Bracken, Mason, Fleming, Menifee and Rowan counties were damaged by hail on the 22d. The correspondent in Kenton county says "the hail fell in a mass and covered the ground with a sheet of ice." The general complaint in the Burley tobacco district is the uneven growth of the crop. It is spotted and not spreading as it should. The knife is being applied to the early planted. Corn continues very irregular in growth. Some fields are in excellent condition, while others are going backward from want of sufficient moisture. The late crop is especially in need of rain. Pastures are very low except in certain localities, and stock water is getting scarce. Plowing has been suspended and no more can be done until general rains come. Irish potatoes, which are being dug, show up poorly, and will hardly be half a crop. An excellent crop of clover seed has been saved. Apples continue to fall.

EASTERN SECTION.

Rain would improve most crops in this section, yet correspondents do not complain much of the lack of moisture. In fact, some say they have had abundance of rain. Except where damage to tobacco was caused by hail, which will be removed in a few days, the crop is in good condition. Tobacco is at its best in the counties bordering upon the Ohio. Corn is also in good condition and prospects are favorable for the average yield. Millet is being cut and is an average crop. Plowing is progressing. Pastures are yet green and gardens in good condition. Fruits are plentiful.

Advices from Tokio say that Japan is about to place a contract in America for the rails and materials required for 1,200 miles of railroad.

A shipment of American tinplate was made to Central America, which it is thought may be followed by further trade in that quarter.

The frog industry is growing. A statistician enumerates "fifty-seven frog farms now in successful operation" in various parts of the country.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from care less local treatment of diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealing from underneath kidney disease is the chief cause of blader trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Klimmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. If you need a medicine that does not admit that immediate rains are essential to the advancement of crops, in the district surrounding Ohio and Indiana, where drought has long been dry for three months, correspondents say tobacco is a complete failure. There will be no first-class tobacco, and what may be able to be saved, which will hardly exceed one-third the average crop, will be very inferior in quality. Correspondents seem to agree upon only half the usual yield of the dark tobacco. Most of it is drying badly, though cutting is in progress in some localities, yet much of the late planted is in danger of death by frost. All the tobacco in a certain tract one by eight miles square in Christian county was so badly damaged by hail on the 22d that some growers have plowed their fields. Corn is also in generally poor condition. It is burning rapidly, and in some places is ready for the knife. Rain cannot now improve it much. Half of a good year's crop is all that can be saved. The ground is baked so hard that no falling has been done. Apples are ripening prematurely and falling fast. Water is scarce so stock have to be driven some distance to creeks or rivers.

Mrs. Burgle has been quite ill for several days.

The Postoffice at Punmville has gone East a couple hundred yards.

The travel on the M and L road is double what it was before the road was made free.

John Bradford and sister Miss Lizzie visited relatives in Fleming county a few days recently.

Captain John Wells had a large force of hands out working the road a couple of days last week.

Thomas Hedge, James Gill and Mr. Shoemaker, near Rectorville, lost their crops of tobacco by the recent hailstorm.

Henry Burgle sold twenty-one head of cattle to Harry Frederick and others for 3 cents, and he fessed up that times are moving along.

A meeting has been going on at Plumville for several days past. The preaching has been earnest, but as yet no additions to the church.

We were down in Charleston Bottom the other day and saw men that were getting $1 a day for working and sucking tobacco. Don't that sound a little like old times?

Uncle Steve made his usual round to Bradyville, O., and this time he took another sprightly widower with him, and they both had better not go any more or we will give his name to 10,000 Legal readers.

The class leaders at Stewart's and Wesley Chapel will change places next Sunday, meeting at Wesley at 10:30 in the morning and at Stewart at 3 p.m. This is the old-time way. Now let the people turn out at each place and have good meetings.

A very pretty wedding took place at Bethany Church on Cabin creek last Thursday evening. The contracting parties were Andrew F. Byerly, a prosperous farmer of Catlin, Vermillion county, Ill., and Miss Amanda B. Berry of Pigeon Creek, same county.

The church was well lighted and beautifully decorated, and before the hour arrived for the two to be made one the house was crowded with people that never looked prettier in their lives. Some one said, "Here they come!" and you could have heard a pin drop as they walked up the aisle to the altar, where they were met by Elder T. P. Dugan, who pronounced them man and wife. They left over the C. and O., the following morning for their Western home. The good wishes of all went with them, and may all their troubles be little.

In connection with Mr. A. L. Redman a few days since he informed the writer that he was 79 years old, and we were at a loss to know how he holds his own so well, unless it is because he has been such a staunch Republican. We remember him to be '90 and '91, when the writer was a boy climbing around over the Cabin creek hills and almost every lip trembled with fear and people hardly knew what was best to do, yet Mr. Redman was a quiet, inoffensive man, and stood by the old flag that he loved so well. But how time does fly! He says the most of his life has been spent in trying to live an upright life, and he is not a fraud; but we were sorry when he said his race was about run and was now awaiting for the summons. May his last days be his best ones.

The following letter explains itself:

San Bruno, Fla., Aug. 26th, 1897.

Mathew Hoffman, Class Leader at St. Peter's Chapel, Kentucky—My Dear Brother:

Yours of August 21st is at hand. I am still here, and have not yet returned, largely in my sympathy, prayers and labors fifty years ago. Youthful and unworthy as I was, the society did me the honor to elect me their leader. I am still a dis. Episcopal Church building erected in Kentucky after the secession of the M.E. Church South. I greatly appreciate the honor given me, and have tried to do my best to honor it, and to keep the society on my heart for prayers for its prosperity ever since.

Kind enough to give me my name, and I have done my best to express my wish that each of them may be as true to the Master and the Church as was the devoted flock of fifty years ago. I am still the leader of the society as the class leader. It assures me that the society still retains the class character. I hope to need not call the class members, and that will never fail to give spiritual Pastors and class leaders, and that the members of the Church will be as true to the Master as the society on the preaching and class meetings and all the means of grace. I expect to form a group to go and join the company of the Master.

Master Conrad Edington returned home Sunday after a five months sojourn with relatives here.

William Stubblefield, James Cooper and T. F. Goodwin made a visit to Gien and Esculapius Springs Sunday.

On account of the advance in price a larger acreage of wheat will be sown in this locality than there was last year.

Squire M. D. Farrow and granddaughters, Miss Amy Bryant, attended the Cherry Grove Camping meet near Mt. Gilead Sunday.

A series of meetings is being held at the Plainville Church, which will continue until after the session of their Conference the 9th of this month.

A plain brown goat was led over the Potowatomi. The securities are now still. Hope Uncle Sam's business will be carried on as it has been without a ruffle.

Why not move the seat of justice to Rectorville? She comes to the front in a trivial suit this week in which justice was administered, although it struck the transgressor a pretty hard blow.

Among those in attendance at the Cherry Grove Camping last Sunday was Settler Valentine, Charlie Mattingly, R. B. Riggen, Eliza Bullock, Sella Riggen, Rena Mae Coryell and Sella Marshall.

John Perkins is complaining with a very sore arm.

JAMES ROE & CO. sent a carload of stock to the city today.

Mrs. Fowler of Lexington is visiting relatives here this week.

A. M. Cooper goes to town every week as we have free toll.

Felts, Turnipseed and Pollitt are attending the Institute this week.
